Columbia River hatchery summer chinook fishing to open June 16

OLYMPIA - For only the second time in 30 years, anglers will soon be able to go fishing for adult hatchery summer-run chinook salmon in the Columbia River.

The season, approved today by Washington and Oregon fishery managers, begins June 16 and is scheduled to run through July 31 unless the harvest guideline is met before then.

Fishing will be open seven days a week from the Rocky Point/Tongue Point line upstream to the Highway 395 bridge at Pasco. The daily limit will be six salmon with a minimum size of 12 inches, no more than two of which may be adult fish. Retained chinook must have a missing adipose fin and a healed scar in its place to indicate hatchery origin. All wild chinook as well as all sockeye, chum and wild coho must be released unharmed.

The West Seattle Sportsmen's Club was founded in 1934 by a group of fourteen men who had the foresight to see that sportsmen, in a united group, would present views, be better heard and achieve goals that were not possible when action as unorganized individuals. The ambitions of these charger members, who strove for the propagation of wildlife and habitat as well as the conservation of all our natural resources, has proven prophetic, for today multitudes of individuals and sporting groups are carrying on the job of conserving the remaining outdoor assets of natural America. The West Seattle Sportsmen's Club helps lead in this fight in the state of Washington. A member has the opportunity to join others in formulating club action in achieving and maintaining these goals.

However, "all work and no play" is not the format of the club. Many events are spaced throughout the year to insure a member many chances to participate in sportsmen's activities. For $25, what more could a man ask than the opportunity to go salmon fishing with a group of his friends on a charter boat, fresh water fishing with other members and their families, have a salmon bake, a clam feed, or attend a banquet especially for the ladies. But there's more - he can shoot on the club range, go rabbit hunting, and if nothing else, should get $25 worth just by watching the kids of the community have a real ball at the Kid's Fishing Derby. To sum it all up, a guy gets at least a hundred dollars worth of fun out of a year's membership.

Fishing the John Day River

By Darrell Kirk

I had the pleasure of fishing one of America's greatest Smallmouth Bass rivers last weekend-the John Day. Located about 6 hours drive from Seattle, the river is world renown for its ability to produce about 50 Smallmouth per day with the average fish weighing about 1.5 to 3lb. each. In addition to great fishing, the John Day area has some of the most scenic territory in the world and the people are some of the nicest you will ever meet.

The main river routes for fishing the John Day are: Spray to Service Creek, Service Creek to Twickenham, and Kimberly to Spray. The route we took was from Kimberly to Spray, a very private section that the fishing guides use. It's about a 10 mile stretch that takes about 6 - 8 hours to float depending on how many "holes" you stop to fish along the way. The float is very scenic and you will see deer, huge beavers, and many different species of birds. Surrounding you are the many "painted mountains" of red, yellow, green, and brown that make the John Day a world class destination for River Rafting. Drop your boat at Kimberly and give Jim a call at (541)468-2182 to bring your vehicle down to your take out at Spray. He charges $15. for this great service.

We fished almost exclusively with 1/4 and 1/8 ounce lead head jigs with 3" Mister Twister Exude grubs in Pumpkin Pepper color. Fish this rig along the bottom very, very slowly hitting the rocks. The big fish love this presentation as it looks just like their favorite meal-crawdads. Again, fish this rig very slowly. For fly fishing enthusiasts, a Clouser Minnow in white works great. Poppers are also a favorite of the locals in the area. The river is ripe with sagebrush, reeds, and other plants that grow along the shore. All of these places are filled with Smallmouth bass just waiting for your presentation.

Getting there:

Take I-90 East through Yakima and then take 97 South through Toppenish. Continue on 97 crossing over the Columbia River. Continue on 97 until you hit Hyway 206. You will pass through the towns of Wasco, Condon, and Fossil. Be sure to stop into Fossil if you get the chance. From Fossil, take Hyway 19 towards the town of Spray. There are several campgrounds on the road from Fossil to Spray, we stayed at one of the best, "Big Sarvice Corral" Give Judy a call at (541)468-2121 to make a reservation. Big Sarvice is located just a mile or two from Service Creek, an important stop along the John Day River.

The John Day River is known around the world for its Smallmouth Bass fishing as well as its "painted" mountains, and makes for the fishing trip of a lifetime.

Shellfish surcharge for domoic acid monitoring, fee for additional catch record cards adopted

OLYMPIA - A new surcharge will be levied starting July 1 on Washington shellfishing and combination fishing licenses to pay for stepped-up monitoring of domoic acid, the substance that closed the state's razor clam season this year.

The shellfishing surcharge, recently approved by the Legislature, was signed into law last week by Gov. Gary Locke. The governor also signed other licensing legislation that will levy a $10 fee for duplicate or subsequent catch record cards.

The shellfishing surcharge will add $3 to the cost of annual shellfish licenses and $2 to the cost of annual combination fishing licenses.

The surcharge will fund biotoxin testing and monitoring by the state Department of Health on beaches used for recreational shellfishing and by the Olympic Regional Harmful Algal Bloom (ORHAB) monitoring program.

Van Riper's Resort

Hello from Sekiu!

Once again, we will try to clear up any confusion about the newly released regulations as best we can regarding the Sekiu area. This is only Marine Area 5 information.

We have some good news for expanded chinook and humpy opportunity this year. After many years of either no or 4-5 day chinook seasons, we finally have a selective chinook fishery that will provide us with a good fishing season. Also, there will be an additional bonus of two humpies during August. Chinook season runs 41 days or until the 3,500 fish quota is reached. We anticipate that this fishery will last 41 days

We appreciate the support you've shown our business during the past and look forward to seeing you this season!

Chris & Val
