Seattle Blackmouth Due to Turn On

Taken from an Article by Jessica Howard in Fishing and Hunting News

Seattle should prove to be the place to be in as Blackmouth season heats up in early January.

Where to go: "Find the Bait, you'll find plenty of feeding Blackmouth ranging from 4 to 7 pounds off Jeff Head," says Tom Nelson at SalmonUniversity.com.

Nelson likes to troll in 120 to 150 feet of water just off Presidents Point. He usually finds his best action by trolling spoons and glow squid combinations behind flashers.

Located just west of Blake Island and just a little to the south, Manchester should be another good Central sound spot. The baitfish tend to get pushed in here, making it a top winter feeding ground for blackmouth.

Troll a path from Port Orchard Point towards the Navy fuel dock, then head in closer to shore just off the Manchester boat ramp and then cut back south towards Yukon Harbor.

Most of the fish seem to come out of the 90 to 100 foot water here. Just keep trolling towards the Harbor until you pass the turquoise house on the beach. Then turn east towards Blake Island and follow the ledge out into 140 feet of water. Complete your troll by heading back north to Orchard Point.

Most of the action here - as with all winter blackmouth fishing - will happen one hour before to two hours after a tide change.

Speed Kills: Blackmouth like a little faster bait than mature kings do, so keep your trolling speed up around 2.5 mph.

Regs: Black mouth fishing in Area 10 remains open until January 31st. Daily Limit one. †

NEXT CLUB MEETING

Our next Club Meeting on Wednesday January 4th will be at Steve Patnode's house where we will be making Venison sausage for use at the Big Game dinner. Learn how to use some of that game that may be in your freezer to make a delicious treat. We will then cook some up to enjoy at the meeting. Steve's Address is "4008 SW Walker St., Seattle, WA. Follow the following link for a map to Steve's:

The West Seattle Sportsmen's Club was founded in 1934 by a group of fourteen men who had the foresight to see that sportsmen, in a united group, would present views, be better heard and achieve goals that were not possible when actioned as unorganized individuals. The ambitions of these charter members, who strove for the propagation of wildlife and habitat as well as the conservation of all our natural resources, has proven prophetic, for today multitudes of individuals and sporting groups are carrying on the job of conserving the remaining outdoor assets of natural America. The West Seattle Sportsmen's Club helps lead in this fight in the state of Washington. A member has the opportunity to join others in formulating club action in achieving and maintaining these goals.

However, "all work and no play" is not the format of the club. Many events are spaced throughout the year to insure a member many chances to participate in sportsmen's activities. For $25, what more could a person ask than the opportunity to go salmon fishing with a group of his friends on a charter boat, fresh water fishing with other members and their families, have a salmon bake, a clam feed, or attend a banquet especially for the ladies. But there's more - he can shoot on the club range, go rabbit hunting, and if nothing else, should get $25 worth just by watching the kids of the community have a real ball at the Kid's Fishing Derby. To sum it all up, a guy gets at least a hundred dollars worth of fun out of a year's membership.
