Fishing Kids

We are looking for volunteers to help with the Department of Fish and Game, Fishing Kids event, on May 19 at Seward Park. Last year we helped at Green Lake and had a great time. This year we are helping at Seward Park on Lake Washington. If you would like to volunteer to help with this event please contact Greg Boyd at 206-965-9629. †

Junior Shooters Wanted

We are looking for juniors interested in learning to shoot competitive air pistol. The club has air pistols available for use and will provide safety and marksmanship training.

If we have enough interest we would like to form a Junior shooting team to compete in local and national matches.

For more information contact Fred Burr at 206-935-4883. †

Next Club Meeting

We will be having Venison Meat Loaf Sandwiches and discussing our upcoming events and outings at the next club meeting. Help us plan these, give us your opinions, and help us eat some big game dinner leftovers.

Come on down to the range at 7 PM Wednesday March 7th. See you all there. †

Bowman Bay

We have only one reserved campsite left for our Bowman Bay outing, the weekend of June 8th - 10th. The price is $51.00 for the two nights this includes the camping and reservation fee.

We always have a lot of fun on this trip. With both fresh and salt water fishing, craw fishing, sitting around the campfire and having one big potluck, there's never a dull moment. Contact Jerry Mas-cio at 206-937-3614 to claim your site, first come first serve. †

Big Game Dinner

The Big Game dinner was another smashing success.

Thanks to all who helped by donating Game or their time to this event. Special thanks to Sportsman's

Warehouse and Outdoor Emporium / Sportco for donations used for raffle prizes. Please be sure to show your appreciation by shopping at these establishments. †

Congratulations to Fred Burr this years recipient of the Roger Dahl award

Last Evening Razor Clam Dig of Season

Tentatively scheduled March 16-18.

OLYMPIA – Fishery managers have tentatively scheduled a three-day razor clam dig March 16-18 at various ocean beaches on evening tides.

Final word on the dig will be announced about a week ahead of time, once marine toxin tests determine whether clams on those beaches remain safe to eat.

The dig planned next month is the last chance this season to harvest razor clams on afternoon tides, although fishery managers may open some beaches for morning digging in April, said Dan Ayres, coastal shellfish manager for the Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife (WDFW).

“We’d like to provide some morning clam-digging opportunities in April, but first we’ll have to assess how many clams are available for harvest after the scheduled dig in March,” Ayres said.

If the March dig proceeds as planned, diggers will have to be especially attentive to which beaches are open each day of the three-day opening, he said.

“As we get toward the end of the season, we have to juggle openings according to the number of clams still available for harvest at each beach,” Ayres said. As currently scheduled, the following beaches will be open for razor clam digging between noon and midnight on the following days:

March 16, Friday – Long Beach, Twin Harbors, Mocrocks (low evening tide: 5:31 p.m., +0.1 ft.)

March 17, Saturday – All beaches: Long Beach, Twin Harbors, Copalis, Mocrocks, Kalaloch (low evening tide: 6:16 p.m., -0.1 ft.)

March 18, Sunday – Long Beach, Twin Harbors and Kalaloch (low evening tide: 6:58 p.m. -0.1 ft.)

No digging will be allowed before noon any of those days.

The National Park Service scheduled the digs at Kalaloch, which is located within Olympic National Park, to coincide with those at the other beaches. Superintendent Bill Laitner reminds diggers that “Kalaloch is a remote beach with its own unique wilderness character. It’s the perfect spot for people who enjoy ‘roughing it’ along with razor clamming.”

Farther south, the Ocean Shores Chamber of Commerce is planning a razor clam festival March 17 to coincide with the scheduled dig at Copalis Beach, which includes the beach at Ocean Shores. Information on the festival, which includes chowder cook-offs and live music, is available on the chamber’s website (<http://www.oceanshores.org/>) or by calling 360-289-2451.

Ayres said diggers should be aware that daylight-saving time will be in effect for the scheduled dig in March.

“Some tide books do not reflect the fact that daylight-saving time starts earlier this year, which could be an issue in planning a trip to the beach,” he said.

A license is required for anyone age 15 or older. Any 2006 annual shellfish/seaweed, razor clam or combination license is still valid. Licenses can be purchased via the Internet at <https://fishhunt.dfw.wa.gov>, by telephone (1-866-246-9453), or in person at more than 600 license vendors throughout the state. A list of vendors can be found at <http://wdfw.wa.gov/lic/vendors/vendors>.

Razor clam beaches are defined as follows:

Long Beach, which extends from the Columbia River to Leadbetter Point.

Twin Harbors Beach, which extends from the mouth of Willapa Bay north to the mouth of Grays Harbor.

Copalis Beach, which extends from the Grays Harbor North Jetty to the Copalis River, and includes beaches near Copalis, Ocean Shores, Oyhut and Ocean City.

Mocrocks Beach, which extends from the Copalis River to the southern boundary of the Quinault Reservation near the Moclips River, including Iron Springs, Roosevelt Beach, Pacific Beach and Moclips.

Kalaloch Beach, which extends from the South Beach Campground to Brown’s Point (just south of Beach Trail 3) in the Olympic National Park. For more information, check <http://www.nps.gov/olym/planyourvisit/exploring-the-coast.htm>. †

Trout in Whiskey

From: Phil Ray

Trout, Butter, Cream, plain flour, Parsley, Whiskey.
 Fillet Trout (Cutlets or Steaks type cut also work well) and cover both sides with flour. In a pan add the butter and Sauté floured trout for a couple of minutes on each side. Add a splash of whisky and cook for a further 15 minutes turning once half way through. Remove the trout and place on serving dishes. Boil up the juices left in the pan and add the cream and parsley stir for a few seconds. Pour cream sauce over cooked trout and serve.

Note: goes well with a variety of vegetables and quantities of cream/whiskey/butter can be varied to suite servings (ITS NICER THAN IT SOUNDS)

Comments from Phil: This recipe may sound odd but it does taste great. perhaps it may be better to go careful with quantities first time of trying half pint cream a shot of whisky and the herbs can be any others of you choice but its worth the try in its basic form. †
